

Graduation: It's Closer Than You Think!

Have you figured out yet what you want to do after you graduate, especially those of you graduating in Spring 2021? You already have so much on your plate that you might think you can't handle one more thing.

You have help! The Career Office at Harcum has all kinds of resources, whether you want to continue your education or land a new job and it's all free for Harcum students.

Do you want to talk with someone about your options, or help you figure out your next steps? Set up a phone call or Zoom call with a Harcum career advisor. It's easy to do — just click here to talk with Claire (Meet with Claire Williams>>) or Trevor (Meet with Trevor Gullledge>>).

Once you've written your resume and/or cover letters, send them off to the Career Office and someone will review them and give you suggestions. Again, it's really easy — click on this link Bear Tracks. Once you submit them, it takes two or three days to get them back.

Harcum also has an online job board where you can look at jobs posted by local and regional employers. Take a look here at the Job Board.

Instead of focusing on getting a new job, maybe you've decided to transfer to a four year college to get your bachelor's degree. Harcum has several webinars scheduled in February and early March to describe the process of transferring, completing an application for admission and applying for financial aid. You can sign up here <https://www.harcum.edu/s/1044/bp20/interior.aspx?sid=1044&gid=1&pgid=2918>. Scroll down to the "Upcoming Events" section.

Finally, always remember that your site coordinator is here to help in any way!

Harcum Community Scholars Leadership Workshops

Anybody who is receiving a Harcum Community Scholarship is eligible to take the HCS Leadership workshops which happen twice a month on Zoom.

The workshops complement the academic work you're doing — they help you to become the very best possible version of yourself and an agent of change in your own life and in your community. The material you get in the workshops (each one includes guided conversation and specific exercises) will help you create a vision for your life and figure out how to make that vision a reality — a series of goals. You'll identify your strengths and how to build on them. You will learn tools that can help you change outdated habits that hold you back from achieving your goals and how to overcome old ways of thinking that tell you what you can't do. You'll learn specific practices that will keep you motivated, focused and help you develop a sense of purpose.

If you want to know when the next series of workshops will start, send an email to Cynda Clyde .
